

2021 CABERNET SAUVIGNON

City Limits is the edge, the place where dirt and brush turn to concrete and culture, where farm meets fashion, and high desert meets high rise. It's where vines, sun, moon, wind, rain, and a year of seasons find your glass.

THE STORY

"One day it came to me as I drove past this sign after 10 years of time. We (the producers) travel far and wide outside of the City Limits to work with farmers and source fruit to make wine. We then take that produce and create something beautiful, and we present it to the people within the City Limits. We bring the rural land to the urban people in a bottle of wine.

Wine was before us. It will be after us. It is not a trend or a fad. Wine is beautiful and it will endure. We bring fruit that is grown beyond the City Limits to people who live within the City Limits to spread the love of Washington Wine." -Morgan Lee, Winemaker

THE ART

Morgan's mom designed the labels for City Limits. She loved the idea of using buildings or landscapes that everyone sees but "don't see". The familiar becomes almost unnoticed yet, if anything was suddenly gone, the loss would be both physically and emotionally felt. So...

blur them out. Push the places out of focus and remind us of what exists by sketchy, hard lines. Our memory of these places fills in the rest. We can hear them, see them, smell them and, because this is damn good Washington wine, taste them.

THE PROCEEDS

We proudly donate a portion of the proceeds from City Limits to NAMI – National Alliance on Mental Illness. NAMI provides advocacy, education, support, and public awareness so that all individuals and families affected by mental illness can build better lives.
